Leading with Values

We companion our clients in their personal development journeys, helping them identify where they feel stuck and finding the courage to try something new. By sourcing their values, clients feel empowered to lead authentically.

Inspired Action

Our coaching programs create a safe space for clients to show up, be seen, and speak their truth. We create relevant practices to support their personal and professional development, gathering real life experiences that fuels their confidence levels.

Cultural Transformation

Too often, clients feel isolated as they navigate the complexities of leading in uncertain times while caring for so many. We listen deeply to what the organization's needs are and co-create helpful, healing strategies that leave participants feeling supported, engaged and empowered.

Elevating Consciousness

We are passionate about making a difference and have honed our skills to offer Integral Sport Coaching across the entire continuum of sport from playground to podium including leadership development, stewarding conflict, grief and loss, team building, strategic planning, and so much more.
